THE SOUTH POLE DIARIES

PERSONAL CREWMEMBER JOURNALS FROM THE 3RD FRAM EXPEDITION (ASSORTED LANGUAGE EDITIONS)

One of the many fascinating aspects of the 3rd Fram expedition to the South Pole was the fact that nearly all the expedition members kept personal diaries. These private notes have been meticulously transcribed and collected in a series of books, complete with field notes, doodles and spelling mistakes. These unique publications offer a window to the lives and minds of a group of extraordinary men who were as articulate as they were rugged.

Each volume is enriched by additional photographs, maps and illustrations.

C.A. LARSEN — THE “UNKNOWN” PIONEER

THE FIRST BOOKS SINCE 1929 ON NORWAY'S UNSUNG HERO OF THE ANTARCTIC

Captain Carl Anton Larsen found previously undiscovered land and bodies of ice in the Weddell Sea region. The now decaying Larsen Ice Shelf is frequently featured in the news of today, yet few people know much about the man after whom it is named.

The Fram Museum now offers several books on the visionary whaling pioneer and explorer.
